Dr. Peter Leube (Bird&Bird)

Dr. Hans Peter Leube, LL.M., is a partner of Bird & Bird's international corporate group and co-heads the firm's global private equity practice. Peter has focused on M&A, takeover/capital markets law and private equity transactions for almost 20 years. From 2008 to 2011, he joined the management of one of Germany's biggest cable TV providers and was responsible for the sale of various cable networks and the successful financial restructuring of the companies. As a consequence, most of Peter's clients are from the telecommunications, media and infrastructure sectors or are investors with a comparable industry focus.

Objective:

E-Mobility and autonomous driving - next generation mobility concepts in essence are based on an electrification and digitalization of (mostly urban) transportation networks. Their implementation, however, depends on the fundamental availability of Digital Infrastructure: 5G network coverage, e-charging stations with standardized plugs, edge computing capacity stored in micro data centers within the network clusters to enable zero-latency vehicle to vehicle communication.
